

One Suspect in First Citizens Bank Robbery Arrested

July 6, 2016

Case update:

Late yesterday afternoon Mr. Alston turned himself in at the North Charleston Police Department. He was arrested for the Harnett County charges along with outstanding warrants in South Carolina (It is our understanding that he was wanted for Forgery of checks, burglary and failure to appear). The vehicle and Ms. Johnson have not been located at this time. We have not received bond information at this time.
